New recruits boost CBRE's Sydney office leasing team

Sydney, NSW (16 August 2010)

CB Richard Ellis has further strengthened its metropolitan Sydney office leasing team by recruiting three new staff to its North Sydney and South Sydney offices.

Grant Bulstrode and Michelle Michelin have joined CBRE's North Sydney office and will focus on opportunities across the lower North Shore. Martin Vockler has meanwhile been appointed to focus on emerging opportunities in the South Sydney market.

CBRE Senior Director Peter Flint said the appointments were a strategic move to capitalise on the strengthening fundamentals in the Sydney office leasing market.

"CBRE now boasts a team of ten operators working the Sydney Metro market, in addition to the eight operators located in our Sydney CBD office," Mr Flint said.

"The expansion of the team will provide tremendous benefits to our clients and will consolidate our position as the leading office services provider in the Sydney market."

Mr Bulstrode has over 15 years experience in the property industry in marketing, residential valuations and sales. Originally from the UK, Mr Bulstrode has joined CBRE's North Sydney office as an Associate Director of Office Services.

Michelle Michelin has also joined the North Sydney team as a Manager, Office Service after three years in CBRE's Asset Services division developing the firm's Private Client Group.

"Grant and Michelle will add considerable strength to our North Shore leasing team," Mr Flint said.

"Grant has invaluable deal experience from working in Central London – one of the world's busiest and most competitive markets. Michelle adds another dimension to the team, given her expertise in developing strong relationships with building owners."

In a third appointment, Martin Vockler has joined the South Sydney office as Manager, Commercial Sales & Leasing.

Mr Vockler has more than 20 years experience in the property industry working across the leasing, property management and residential sales markets. In his most recent role, Mr Vockler was a Property Manager and Leasing Consultant for Colliers International in Coffs Harbour.

“Martin’s extensive industry knowledge and professionalism will help drive our leasing efforts in the South Sydney market,” Mr Flint said.

“South Sydney is seeing an upswing in sentiment, with tenant enquiry levels improving and major deals being finalised, key among them the Australian Federal Police pre-commitment to around half of the 8,500sqm Central Terrace building at Sydney Airport.”
